

HUERTA IGNORES DEMANDS MADE BY WILSON; WILL ORGANIZE NEW CONGRESS

EVADES ISSUE PLACED BEFORE
HIM BY SPECIAL REPRE-SENTATIVE JOHN LIND.

SITUATION IS CRITICAL

Statement by President is Withheld After it is Announced it Would be Made Public.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—An official notification was published here today under yesterday's date ordering those Mexican senators and deputies who were elected on Oct. 26th, to assemble during the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 15, in their respective houses in order to effect their organization.

Statement Withheld.

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson issued a formal statement on the Mexican situation with the purpose of issuing it today; but just before noon Secretary Tumulty announced that it would be withheld "for the present."

No reason for the change in the president's plan was given at the White House. Just before the issue of the proposed statement was postponed, however, Secretary Bryan received long dispatches from William Bayard Hale, who had been conferring with the constitutionalists in Nogales and from Charge O'Shaughnessy at Mexico City. Whether their contents had to do with the sudden change was not disclosed.

Outline Policy.

It is assumed here by many of those familiar with the situation that the official course to be pursued by the United States will be to recall Nelson O'Shaughnessy today unless Gen. Huerta reappears upon the scene and frankly yields all the demands of Washington. It is thought in the same quarters that recall of Mr. O'Shaughnessy should it occur would be followed soon by some act on the part of Washington which would be paramount in recognition of the belligerency of the rebels.

No Weakening.

Provisional President Huerta showed no signs of weakening this morning and the American embassy was in a state of suspense.

An early call on Nelson O'Shaughnessy was the German minister to Mexico, who arrived before the American had breakfasted.

It developed today that in the course of the preliminary exchange of views between Lind and the Mexican officials on the question of the dissolution of the new Mexican congress Gen. Huerta advanced the plea that he would not dissolve it because it had been legally elected. Mr. Lind's reply to this was the presentation of the demands made by the United States, accompanied by the declaration that what Gen. Huerta had been able to do with the former congress he must do with this one, one of his own creation.

Is at Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 13.—John Lind arrived today and took up quarters at the United States consulate. Mr. Lind will discuss his position with the American officials on the question of the dissolution of the new Mexican congress. Gen. Huerta advanced the plea that he would not dissolve it because it had been legally elected. Mr. Lind's reply to this was the presentation of the demands made by the United States, accompanied by the declaration that what Gen. Huerta had been able to do with the former congress he must do with this one, one of his own creation.

Settle by Contenders.

The American government still is desirous that the revolution be settled by the contenders themselves but the international complication that have arisen in connection with disturbances in all parts of the republic and the threatened tangents of a new congress make this settlement impossible.

This movement considers "No man is said to have promoted the Washington administration to seek definite assurances from the constitutionalists."

Back of the efforts for an understanding with Carranza is said to be a bone on the part of Washington that the constitutionalists will establish a government of the closest friendship with the United States. Just what he has given Mr. Huerta to President Wilson or Secretary Bryan to lay before the constitutionalists is not disclosed here but the impression prevails that the United States wishes some promise that they would conduct at an early date a fair and free election.

Embarro on Arms.

Lifting the embargo on arms is one of the prominent possibilities in the constitutionalists and the American government are agreed in a satisfactory understanding. There is a meeting on the part of many officials that the mere opening of negotiations with the constitutionalists and extension of moral support to their cause may influence not only Huerta's retirement but the choice of a provisional president who would be acceptable to the constitutionalists.

No officials would comment on the developments early today but Mr. Huerta's answer to the late communication demands the next step of the United States before actually showing any support to the constitutionalists.

Further Delay.

President Wilson told the Washington correspondents today that he did not now contemplate issuing a statement on the Mexican situation. "There are elements in the case which I cannot discuss, but which make it look to me very much more favorable."

The Exact Status.

The status of the Mexican situation up to noon today may be summed up as follows: The demand which the American government made yesterday on the provisional authorities at Mexico City had not up to that time brought any response from Huerta or those representing him.

Still Defiant.

Mexico City, Nov. 13.—This morning passed without any indication that President Huerta intends to accede to the American demand that he prevent the newly elected congress from convening when John Lind early yesterday sent a notification to Huerta that the United States government would have no further parley with the Mexican government unless the provisional president replied to the American demand by 8 A.M. today. He also indicated that the Mexican government must inform the members of the diplomatic corps of his action in respect to the congress by midnight.

Is at Vera Cruz.

Mr. Lind left Mexico City last night and is now in Vera Cruz. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge de affairs of the United States legation, awaits instructions from Washington. It is of the redemption of Mexico.

CHILD AID LAW IS BEING CONSIDERED BY COUNTY BOARDS

Measure Championed by Assemblyman Rosa of Beloit Receives Attention of Supervisors Throughout State.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., Nov. 13.—Over seventy county heads of the state meeting this week will consider the adoption of the Rosa child aid bill passed at the last session of the legislature. In an interview today Judge Rosa of Beloit, the author of the law, said that the present system of caring for poor children is archaic and that the system of institutional care is expensive. He maintains that the state should do all possible to have the dependent child cared for in the home. The adoption of the law is optional with the county boards.

Rosa's Statement.

"Our system of granting relief to our unfortunate classes is a long way from being perfect," says Assemblyman Rosa. "It needs mending sadly in many spots. One of the worst features of our past system has been its method of dealing with families having small children. In every community there is one or more homes having small children, when death, sickness or misfortune to the head of the family leaves the family without sufficient, and at times without any means of support. And to often has this condition been met either by private charity or by wrecking the home and committing the children to the state public school at Sparta. This has been a great hardship to the family."

"I believe we will find that it has not been either the most efficient or the most economical way of dealing with this problem. It is generally accepted by the authorities on the subject that the institutional child is handicapped. In the battle of life he has not an equal chance with the child reared in a home—even though that home may seem a poor one to most of us."

An Economical Way.

"Institutional care of children is expensive. I believe it will be found when my law, commonly known as the mothers' pension act, shall have been given a good trial, that it will be more economical to care for such children in their home, when practical. From my six years experience in dealing with such cases, I became convinced that the investment of a small sum in the home under proper regulations would have kept the home intact and would have been infinitely better for the children and hence for the state it self. You may always trust the judge to take children away from the bad home."

Law is Optional.

"But while economy is important, it should not be the chief consideration. It is much more important that every boy and girl should be given a fair chance in life."

Lawyers' Statement.

"The law enacted by the last legislature probably is not perfect. It is not expected that it will be the final word on the subject. It is not complete. It is optional with each county board whether it will come under the law. As an inducement the state will pay one-half of the money expended, net to exceed, however, one dollar for every thirty inhabitants of the county. Each county should appropriate something, even though it is small sum, so that the law may be given a fair trial. The law is so framed that the idea can be tried out without the creation of any new machine."

Records on the operation of the law and to be made to the state board of control and blanks for that purpose have already been prepared.

Explains Further.

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson today prepared a statement setting forth the latest phases of the situation in Mexico and embodying the attitude of the United States. At the White House it was said that the statement would be given out for publication later today.

Urge Germans to Leave.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—The German legation in Mexico City today again urgently advised the Germans residing in Torreon and Durango to leave those cities on account of the expected hostilities there. The Mexican diplomatic representatives have made financial and other arrangements for the purpose of assisting them to depart. All the warning given earlier to the German residents, it is pointed out, proved needless, as only four Germans left Torreon.

Predict Capture.

CHURCH MUST TAKE PART IN SOLUTION OF SOCIAL PROBLEM

Duty Does Not Cease With Teaching
of the Bible—Must Extend Christian Ideas.

"It is the duty of the modern church, not only to teach the Bible, but to endeavor to extend Christian ideas into the solution of social and industrial problems confronting the nation and seek to give adverse conditions the needed remedy by their influence," said the Rev. Henry Will, rector of the Trinity church at the meeting of the Order of the Brethrenhood of the United Brethren church last evening in explaining the social service work of his church.

At the federal council of the Trinity church a set platform for the establishing of better legislation protecting the workmen of the nation was passed upon and a system of organizing the various social service departments directed and placed throughout the country. Each of the committees plan to become intimate with the civic problems and aid in their solving.

"Janesville is sadly lacking in a body of this nature, as a city. The women show that they have been leaders in the question by organizing a civic club, the benefits of which are assured. Too long has the church listened and given heed to the cry, that the pulpit and church is only for the preaching of the Bible and it is time the church, which has formulated a plan whereby they could unitedly seek to improve conditions of the city that tend to lead people away from Christian lives. We can not expect clean lives unless people have clean homes, sufficient wage to live and for physical welfare. The condition of people is a large factor in the success of Christianity. It is time that the church come out to meet this issue, to stand a champion for the men of the city, for better conditions," explained Rev. Willmann in outlining his address.

"It is true that there is grave danger for the church to become blind, having its eyes too much on the social problem and neglecting the affairs of the church, but I consider it a Christian duty to have church members endorse specific declarations of economic principles and work of city officials, who have by their actions recognized the failures of the church in solving industrial questions. Janesville should have an organization of men, meeting periodically to discuss city problems and a wise solution," maintained the speaker.

The brotherhood gave Rev. Willmann a rising vote of thanks and the members expressed themselves in hearty favor of his suggestions. At the next monthly meeting of the society a debate on the tactics of the militant suffragettes is to form the evening's entertainment.

LOANI BAND PLANS A BIG CELEBRATION

Silver Jubilee of Congregational Church Society Will Be Observed On Monday.

Elaborate preparations are being made by the members of the Loani Band of the Congregational church for the celebration of the silver jubilee of the society on Monday, Nov. 17. Over three hundred guests will be in attendance at the banquet which will be served at the church dining room at six forty-five o'clock and will enjoy the program to follow. The speaker of the evening will be Miss Gardner of Chicago, who has a wide reputation for her endeavors in church and missionary circles. Let us from the ten members of the band who were responsible for its organization twenty-five years ago will be read.

The banquet committee is composed of Mrs. F. C. Bradley, Misses Ida Craig, Mable Lee and Cora Clemons. It is hinted that a silver offering will be called for since the affair is to be a silver jubilee.

ENJOYED A SURPRISE
ON TUESDAY EVENING

Mrs. George Jones, who resides on North Chatham street, was rendered a very pleasant surprise on Tuesday evening by a party of friends and neighbors, the occasion being in honor of her birthday. Several excellent musical selections were rendered, followed by two most pleasing readings by Miss Daisy Jones. During the course of the evening a bounteous dinner was served from well filled baskets. Mrs. Hankey, speaking for all those present, presented Mrs. Jones with several beautiful pieces of silver, as souvenirs of the occasion. The party broke up at a late hour.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR! NO MORE DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin or faded here's an inexpensive, delightful tonic—Grows hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see hair, fine and downy at first—then really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggly, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small snip—your hair will be fine, fluffy, and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Don't stay stuffed-up. Quit blowing and sniffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

AMUSEMENTS

PERFECTION IN SINGING.

Physical Exercise Essential for Vocal Training, Declares Lillian Russell.

That physical exercise is as necessary to perfection in singing as is vocal training itself is the contention of Lillian Russell—and the career of the prima donna compels acceptance of her as an authority upon the subject. Singing itself, Miss Russell says, is really a sixth sense, music and the enjoyment of the same being within the mind. But the voice itself, she says, is a physical result, dependent upon the lungs and vocal chords, therefore is regulated or determined by the physical condition of those features of the physical anatomy.

"It is easy to cultivate the voice when the pupil is young," says Miss Russell, "which is proof that singing is dependent upon physical condition. If one never attempts singing until he reaches that age where tissue may be regarded as 'set,' it is useless to then begin vocal practice with a view to developing the good singer."

"The fact is that there are certain exercises of great benefit to the voice, it is not a new one. Many singers in Europe raise and lower weights upon the chest by inhaling and exhaling, so as to gain control of the bellow-like action of the lungs, thus attaining a smooth and even tone. But exercise for keeping the voice young is a new idea; yet it is as logical in its application as are those exercises which, intelligently and persistently followed, will enable one to always be beautiful. In my own case, I have found a simple exercise consisting of raising the arms high above the head while inhaling and lowering them while exhaling of incalculable benefit. Turning the head gently from side to side and nodding and throwing the head back is another good system, which invigorates all the organs of the throat and is very beneficial to the vocal chords because of the stimulating blood circulation."

Miss Russell's retention of youthful freshness of the voice has been the surprise of the operatic stage. She surprised everyone by her appearance at the opening of her latest engagement, which brings her to this city at Myers Theatre, Tuesday, November 25, as the star of the John Cort Feature Festival. Miss Russell is a firm believer in the theory of systematic living, which, she maintains, will enable her to retain youthfulness and live a century. And she says this applies to the voice as well. Miss Russell's present company, it is claimed, is the most expensive theatre amusement on tour the present season.

"STOP THIEF."

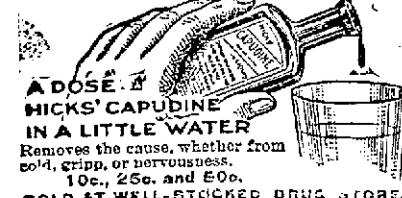

A farce is a dramatic work reinforced with absurdities in the matter of snappy lines and unexpected situations, constructed for the sole purpose of exciting laughter and in presenting "Stop Thief," another of Collier & Harris's successes they offer a play that possesses all of those attributes. The new play will be presented at the Myers Theater Friday, November 28.

"Stop Thief" is from the pen of Carlyle Moore, and the story he tells has to do with two people who, imagining themselves kleptomaniacs, are continually possessed with the fear of being found out. Neither of them is aware of the other's irresistible inclination to steal, to check which a detective is engaged to watch over them. The real detective fails to make his appearance in the appointed time, but a real burglar is smuggled into the home by the housemaid, and he is immediately accepted by the two kleptomaniacs as the detective who is to guard their actions. Under these favorable circumstances, the thief proceeds to loot the place without fear of arrest.

It is around this rather unique idea that the author has woven his play, the plot of which bristles with fun, punctuated with many thrills that are materially enhanced by the usual spectacle of a light fingered gentleman exercising his nefarious calling, while two members of the home that is being dismantled imagine that they themselves are the culprits.

"QUO VADIS."

The amazing possibilities of the camera are revealed in George Kleine's spectacular photo-drama "Quo Vadis" which has proven the sensation of the year in New York. Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and a dozen other important amusement centers. A complete romantic story is told in eight reels of film that abounds in thrills and dramatic situations. The New York Sun said: "Finer pictures have not been seen here." George Kleine's "Quo Vadis" will be the attraction at the Myers Theatre on Thursday, November 20, for three days. The seat sale will start Wednesday, November 19.

Elgin, Ill., Nov. 10.—Butter 31 cents.

FLORIDA ORANGES MAKE
APPEARANCE ON MARKET

Florida oranges are beginning to make their welcome appearance on the Janesville market, lowering the orange prices from fifty and sixty cents down to thirty cents. The Florida product is only a forerunner to what will fill the fruit market within a month as the California product will soon be ready for the consumers. The quality is reported to be fair with a chance for improvement with better shipments.

Peaches, of which local dealers report a remarkable sale, are fast dwindling from the market together with the Concord grapes, pears, and other summer fruit. Fine imported Alemania green grapes are being offered at twenty-five cents per pound. Cranberries are meeting a heavy sale and are of excellent quality. The wholesale price is being raised because of the approaching holiday season and it is expected that the growers will be forced to increase the price up from ten cents per pound.

Janesville, Wis., Nov. 13, 1913.

Vegetables—Potatoes, 90@95c a bushel; new cabbage, 3c@10c; old heads, 2c@10c; beets, 5c@10c; Texas onions, 5c@10c; green onions, 2c@5c; peppers, 5c@10c; green beans, 3c@5c; pieplant, 5c@10c; tomatoes, 2c@5c; carrots, 2c@10c; parsnips, 3c@10c; leeks, 2c@10c; cranberries, 10c@15c each; cucumbers, 2c@3c; spinach, 5c@10c; celery, 2c@3c; for 10c; parsnips, 3c@10c; carrots, 2c@10c; cranberries, 10c@15c each.

GREETINGS

Often dull times make sharp appetites.

A married man doesn't have to worry; he knows the worst.

A self-made man never gets the job quite done.

NOV. 13

A rather fortunate morning, but the afternoon is not so good. Look out for the boss.

If this is your birthday be careful of your job, as it will require lots of attention.

On the Spur of the Moment

To an Automobile.

I'll never buy another car. That's what I won't. This cranking stunt has got my old Angora goat. And that's all. At last she seems to feel the thrill of life along her heel. She chews, She bounces, She seems to start, But jacks the heart; She jumps, She bounces, She bolts And bolts And bolts

Fly everywhere, I do declare, She gives a last expiring "sput," I thought I had her going, but The juice has quit, there is no spark, The lights go out. We're in the dark. And then I yank And then I crank For just another hour or two; My language it would hardly do For Sunday school. Oh, what a fool To pin faith on a punk machine That is propelled by gasoline. What's that explosion, grim and dire?

A tire? All right, Good night. Postage Stamps. The postage stamp first made its appearance in 1839. Its inventor was James Chalmers, a printer of Dundee, who died in 1853. England Adopted the adhesive stamp in 1840, and issued the first stamps for the use of the public in 1840. A year later stamps were introduced into the United States and Switzerland, and soon afterward made their appearance in France and Belgium.

Flour Test. A good flour should not be pure white, but rather creamy in tint. When a little is rubbed between the thumb and first finger it should have a slightly granular feeling. A good flour absorbs more moisture than one of inferior quality.

CHIEFLY A SPONGE.

This is the characterization of the new Wisconsin Life Insurance company by the Western Underwriter, and in some ways the writer of the article is right. He says:"As we see the state life insurance scheme in Wisconsin, it has not developed any remarkable qualities so far other than those of the sponge.
In numerous publications we read of its glories as set forth by the esteemed insurance commissioner. He endeavors to elicit support and clientage by publicity which costs him nothing. The state insurance commissioner, who, drawing his salary as manager of the state insurance company from the state, from funds not charged against the insurance company, carries out the policy all along the line of sponging on someone else to make the state insurance company a success. He sponges on the magazines and newspapers for space, describing the simplest, and most uninteresting form of life insurance and hoping thereby to secure some business without paying agents."He takes the system developed by private enterprise without so much as their leave and then sponges upon the agents of the regular companies who work up the business, cultivate the insured, educate him to the needs of insurance and do all the preliminary work up to the point where the state, a cut rate competitor of its own citizens, steps in and takes the business without paying agents."Nobody for a moment believes that people in any number would insure their lives if they were not invariably persuaded to do so by insurance men who have made it their business to understand the system and explain its advantages and induce the unwilling prospect to forego some important personal benefit for that of his family.
Why should the taxpayers of the state of Wisconsin, who do not care for its brand of life insurance, be compelled to pay the operating expense of the insurance company conducted for those who do? There are dozens of plans of life insurance which are not sold to any extent by the private companies because they have not pushed them and spent money on their development, but which are just as good as the plans which have been popularized."The state of Wisconsin, however, selects none of these, nor does it originate any new plans. It simply takes bodily the trade mark, popularity and reputation that have been built up by private enterprises and without regard to copyright laws,
puts the brand of the state upon them and sells them in competition with the original brand. If someone would start making Ivory soap or Quaker oats or Mennen's talcum powder and sell it under the original name and brand he would be prosecuted."If the newspapers and magazines would refuse to give the Wisconsin state insurance scheme their reading matter space except at the regular advertising rates; if the agents of Wisconsin would refuse to solicit business and work up life insurance cases until they are ready for the state to close at a cut rate; if the people of Wisconsin would refuse to pay for the time of the insurance commissioner and his clerks devoted to the exploitation of a life insurance scheme in which only a few hundred,
or at the best, a few thousand receive the benefit, the Wisconsin plan for state life insurance would soon cease to be."

THE PROPER WAY.

The republican national committee are going about the re-organization of the workings of the G. O. P. in the right manner. They take a sound position when they hold they lack authority to make radical changes on the basis of representation of the national conventions of the party. For twenty years active workers of the party have urged that changes be made in the representation so that they would more properly represent the voting strength at the polls on election day. The members of the present national committee believe the plan should be an accomplished fact but suggest that a national convention be called to decide this important matter for itself.

MOTHERS' PENSION LAW.

It is interesting to note what the results of the Mothers' Pension law in Oregon show after four months' operation.
According to the Nation, it has shown a startling condition. The Nation believes that it is an encouragement to fraud, the report showing that fifty per cent of the applicants having been refused. It is also found that in many cases perjury was committed and false affidavits as to financial status made. On the other hand deserving widows have shrunk
from the publicity of asking state aid.
The scope of the Oregon law may be gathered from the fact that in the average county there are sixty pensioners, costing $1,000 monthly, and that the state's outlay for the present year is expected to total $300,000, and yet it is only in its experimental stage.The storm of last Sunday took its toll on the Great Lakes despite the warnings sent out by the government and weather forecasters. The loss of life and merchandise has not yet been estimated and those who escaped appreciate the fate of "those who go down to the sea in ships."Mr. Pindell of Illinois will be sent to Russia to enjoy one year as the American representative at the court of the White Czar, and then willgracefully resign that some other worthy democrat can accept the same job. This is true Jeffersonian simplicity.The city of Joliet had a novel experience last Sunday, which resulted in filling every church in the city, to its capacity. A traveling man suggested that the day be set aside as "Go to Church" day. Through a little effort every church in the city was interested and on Saturday every family was visited and invited to attend the church of their choice, the next morning. Twenty-five thousand people responded, and every church was packed to the doors. The pastors are enthusiastic and claim that the campaign will have lasting results. Why not try it in Janesville.The loss of life and property on the Great Lakes, during the late storm, is the heaviest experienced for the past quarter century, and the pity of it is that the calamity might have been avoided if ordinary precaution had been observed. Storm signals and storm predictions were announced, and notes of warning given out, but all to no purpose. If intelligence, instead of bull-headed obstinacy, had controlled, the wrecked vessels and crews would have been saved. Somebody should be held responsible for this kind of negligence.Wisconsin political agents are working overtime trying to dope out new combinations in both the republican and democratic camps for next year's political battle. Thus far they have only been guessing and some of the guesses have been wide of the mark.Or course Mr. Iluega will not resign as long as he can hold down his present position, just because President Wilson wants him to. It will take something more persuasive than John Lind's arguments to unseat him.The shop early slogan has gone through the land and the suggestion is not a bad one at all. It will mean lots of saving at the short end of the Christmas season.Mrs. Parkhurst has not made the commotion in the United States that was expected and her visit is even devoid of the great financial gains expected.Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

"CATCH MY PAL."

There's a new movement abroad in the land.It started in Ireland, has reached England, Australia and New Zealand and is spreading in the United States.It is the "Catch My Pal" movement, to assist in the cause of temperance.
This is the way it works:First you climb aboard the "water wagon" yourself. (That means, you know, that you pledge yourself to complete or partial abstinence from drinking-alcoholic liquors.) Then, being safely seated, you reach down your hand, catch hold of the hand of a friend and brother and assist him to a place beside you.That's the "Catch My Pal" movement. Simple, is it not?When your "pal" feels himself safely settled in his place he stretches his hand for his chum.

And so the movement grows.

The father of the idea is the Rev.
Robert J. Patterson, a clergyman of Ireland. He says, "The beauty of this movement is that the unit, the individual, can do a great deal without being greatly inconvenienced."Of course, it is always the unit that makes up the total of anything. Get a sufficient number of units and you succeed in whatever you undertake.Now, this "Catch My Pal" movement contains the germ of a great idea.
It is founded on the great principle of reform from within, not from without.The greatest and most lasting reforms are those which are actuated by forces within the souls of men, not from without. Before a man can feel that he is called upon to lead or follow
in a movement for reform or advancement of any sort he must be deeply moved in spirit. The initial push may come from without, but the inspiration to continue in motion must come from within.Within, not without the man, lies the field for reform.This "Catch My Pal" idea is a good one for application elsewhere than in the temperance movement. Suppose, for example, that you are firmly convinced of the righteousness of a political movement. You join it and are seated safely and firmly on its chariot
of progress, as you believe. Now, from your vantage post, why not reach your hand to your brother, walking in the path of error, and help him to a seat alongside of yourself?Be certain in your own mind, of course, that the cause you espouse is just, before stretching out your hand
to others.W. B. HOLLINS SUSPENDED

Gas.

Who first used the word "gas" and why? Merely because of the supposed resemblance of the product of burning carbon to the "chaos" of the Greeks. "This spirit, hitherto unknown," wrote the experimenter Van Helmont in 1648, "I call by the new name gas, and I call it so because,
being untamable, it is scarcely distinguishable from the chaos of the elements." A glimpse at modern gas devices will show how far removed from untamability is the gas of today.If you have not read the ads you

COUNTRY BANKS WIN DEPOSITORY FIGHT

PRO-RATING PROPOSITION CARRIES AT SESSION OF BOARD THIS AFTERNOON.

DIVISION OF THE FUNDS

Beloit and Janesville Banks Will Get One-Half of Money and Country Banks the Remainder.

The country banks won their fight for a pro-rating of the county deposits when the county board late this afternoon passed the amendment offered by Supervisor Richardson, the vote standing 25 to 11 against. According to the plan the Beloit banks will secure one-fourth of the total deposits, the Janesville banks one-fourth, and the remainder in the county the remaining half, the rate of interest being 2.5 per cent per annum, the money being subject to draft on demand of the county treasurer.

The Beloit supervisors and several others made a staunch fight for the old system of depositories under which the county money would have gone to the Beloit state and the Second National banks of Beloit at a rate of 3.1 or .6 of a cent more than under the pro-rating provision.

Members of the Janesville Commercial club were on hand to present the county agricultural demonstrator proposition as soon as the deposit matter was settled. J. A. Craig, F. E. Lane and W. H. Doughtery were present.

A spirited fight was on before the board this afternoon on the question of county depositories, the country banks having a representation to support their pro rating proposition by which they would have the county funds divided equally among all the banks in the county. Mr. McHenhen of Clinton was given a hearing and talked at some length on the proposition.

Supervisor Wilford of Beloit offered the resolution that the two Beloit banks submitting the bid of 3.1 per cent per annum, in response to the advertisement for bids, be designated by the board as the country depositories. Supervisor M. P. Richardson of Janesville was on his feet with an amendment which would substitute a pro-rating proposition and the fight was on.

The banks signing the pro-rating proposition were: Rock County National Bank, Bower City Bank, Merchants and Savings Bank, First National Bank, all of Janesville; Bank of Milton, The State Bank, The Farmers' Bank, all of Milton; Footville State Bank; Citizens' Bank of Clinton; Bank of Evansville; The Grange Bank, Farmers and Merchants' Bank, all of Evansville; the Beloit Bank and the Second National Bank of Beloit offered the joint bid of 3.1 percent.

The Janesville banks offered a bid of 3 percent on deposits. The First National Bank of Edgerton offered 3.1 percent on $25,000 of the county's money. The Bank of Evansville offered a bid of 3.1 percent on $30,000.

DECIDE TO RESCIND RESOLUTION FIXING FEES FOR JUSTICES

County Board Revokes Action Taken Seventeen Years Ago—Committee Reports.

By a unanimous vote the Rock county board of supervisors this morning rescinded a resolution passed by that body on January 15, 1896, fixing the fee of justices in convictions for drunkenness, indecent exposure and vagrancy at fifty cents.

This action was taken on the motion of Supervisor E. C. Hopkins following the adoption of the report of Committee No. 13 on the allowance of bills of police officers, constables and physicians, presented by Supervisor S. B. Heddies, and remarks made by Justice Jenson of Edgerton and Supervisors Smith and Heddies.

Justice Jenson explained that his protest against the existing fee grew out of his presentation of a bill for $47.50 and his allowance at $1.60.

He explained that the fees now paid by the justice must purchase and pay for his own blanks and other supplies and make out several reports. In cases where fines are imposed the justice receives the full legal fee of $2.07, but when jail penalties are imposed the fee is only cents.

The justice is also collected in cases of assault and battery.

Supervisor Simon Smith explained that the fees were placed at fifty cents at that time the sheriff was paid a fixed amount every week for boarding tramps, and one Clinton justice was keeping from 75 to 100 tramps in jail most of the time.

Once there was as many as 140 in jail. The county board reduced the fee to discourage the sentencing of tramps.

Now that the conditions that brought about the passage of this resolution had ceased to exist he thought it should be revoked.

Mr. Heddies explained that this was also the view of the committee, but that so long as it was in force they felt bound to abide by its provisions, although they were manifestly unfair.

Although this morning had been set aside to hear the plea of members of the Janesville Commercial Club for a county agricultural demonstrator, supervisor Richardson informed the board soon after it met that the club was not yet ready to be heard and asked that they be given time following the hearing on bank deposits this afternoon.

Postmaster Asa Anderson was voted the appropriation of $300 for his work in his district through the adoption of a resolution introduced by Supervisor Magee. Mr. Anderson explained that the amount he had on hand, $255, was the only possible cash he had through the year, and had three or four funerals to pay out of that sum.

He explained that the appropriation would not become available before February.

The board adopted the resolution presented by Supervisor W. A. Rossow appropriating $160 to the Children's Home Finding Society, for the care of the four children of Harry H. Hamlet, deceased, and Olive A. Hamlet, who had been into the care of the society, which will assume responsibility for them until they are of age.

Committee No. 6, through Supervisor Treadway, recommended the appropriation of the sum of $23,754.47 for roads and $2,250 for bridges to be built during 1914 with state aid. The state apportionment is $33,744.56 for roads and $1,225 for bridges. The report of the committee was referred to Committee No. 4. On recommendation of Committee No. 6, the board appropriated $700 for surveys of state aid roads by the engineers of the State Highway Commission.

The commission has announced that it will do surveying free as before on all plans made up to January 1, but that want of needed funds makes it impossible to continue the work without compensation from the county for work planned after that date. The charge of the commission is $10 per mile in villages, and $25 in cities.

The petition of the village of Milton and the town of Porter for amendment to the county system of highways by addition of designated roads and streets was granted. With regard to the communication of the State Highway Commission concerning the oiling of all state aid roads the committee reported that it was not able to report at the present time and asked that it be referred back to them for further investigation. It was so referred. Adjournment was taken until two o'clock this afternoon.

The L. S. club will meet with Miss Ann Jackson on Friday afternoon at her home on Sinclair street.

Miss Lucile Hartshorn has returned home after a visit in the country with her cousins.

C. B. Evans was a business caller in Milton on Wednesday.

Mrs. R. H. Barlow of Jefferson avenue has returned from several days' visit with her sister in Milwaukee.

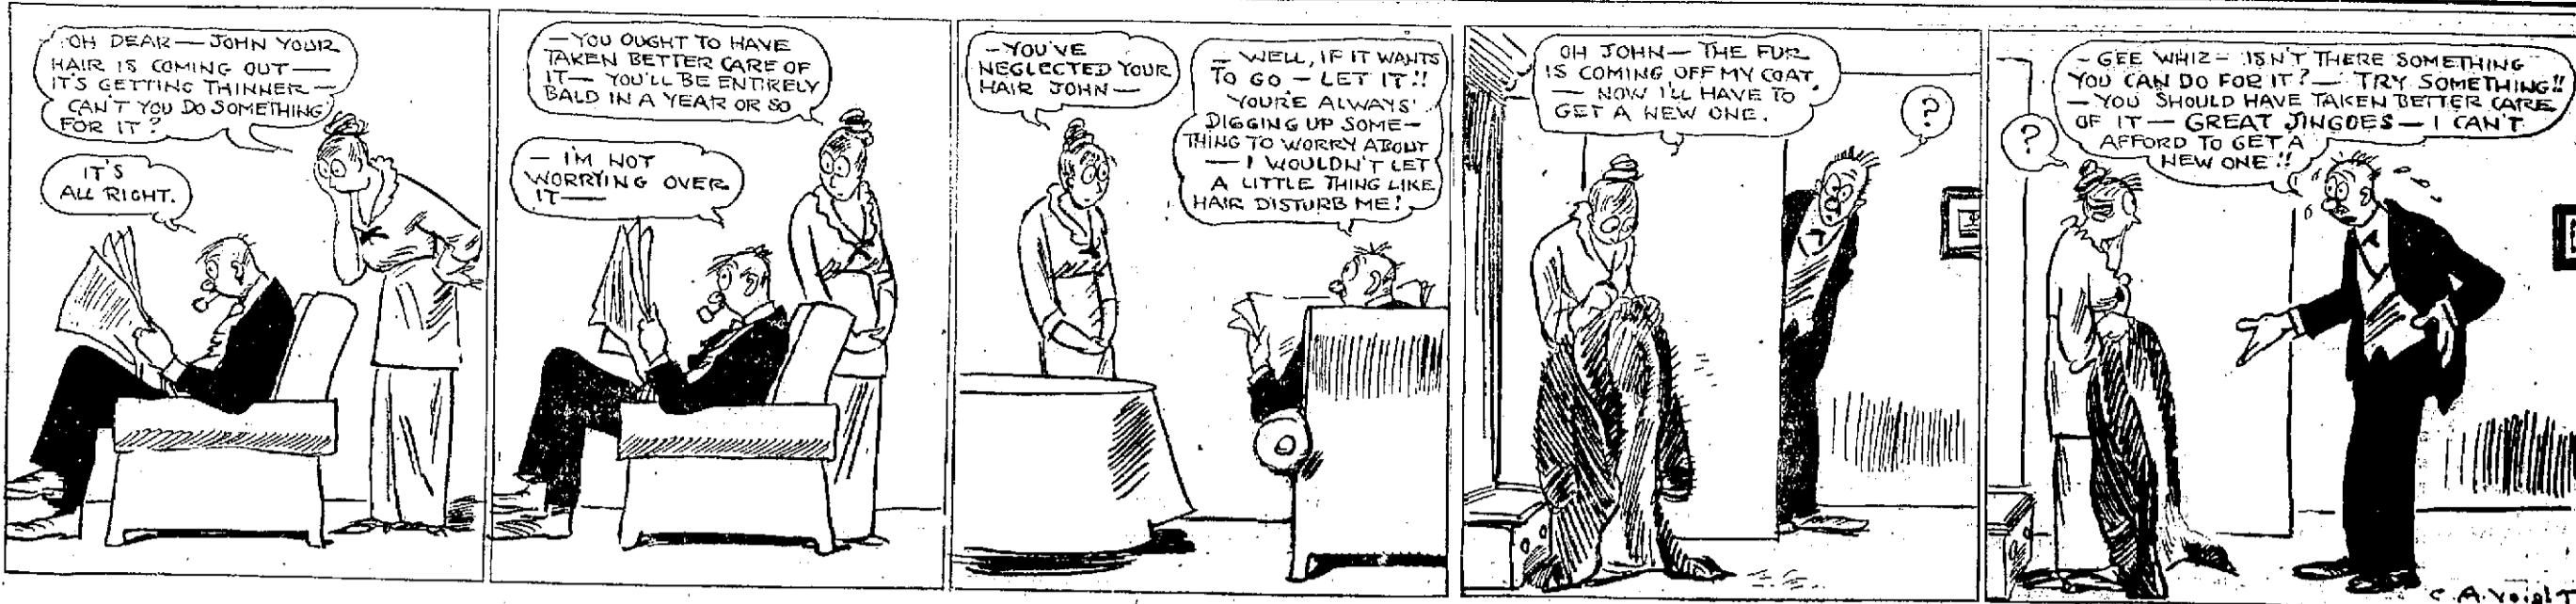

Dr. J. M. Impay is spending the day in Whitewater.

The sport editor of the Pittsburgh Sun went all the way through his mail the other morning, and was rewarded with what follows. It was from George "Knockout" Brown, a Greek middleweight: "For why you not make Mister Jimmy dime for me a chance at his Champion George Chip or yw heh?" Me george greek Knock out Brown fight Chip two times. Yes me should have been give decisiv and papers give me draw. next time me knock him like much he knock Frank Klaus. New Yorkers certainly don't care to be pleasant to Johnny Kilbane. After Kilbane had knocked out Jimmie, the boy wonder at Cincin the other day, after a fast and furious dispute, they passed around a mean one along Broadway. Mars. It seemed, had stayed in New York a while and before beating it for Cincin and so the Gothamites looked upon him as the last word in heavyweight en-

The promoters who are urging the idea of getting Gunboat Smith and Sam Langford together for a little go had better pause a while and ponder. There are those who seem to think that such a match would be the last word in heavyweight encounters, but a little deliberation shows that a more attractive match might be arranged. It is already too well known that Langford has grown to resemble a toy balloon and the fact of the matter is he is apt to stay that way. It might be suggested that a few weeks hard work would bring back to Sam his former outlines and that he would be able to rid himself of the extra fat he totes. But a fighter reaches sooner or later an age when the flesh he gathers is there to stay for keeps and it is feared that this is the case with Langford. Of course this is to declare that Langford would never again be able to resume his normal proportions, but it would require good hard work and several months at it. Should a bout be arranged for them before Langford was really fit to scrap at his height, Gunboat Smith would have all the chances. And should Langford lose in a scrap that was staged before he had trained down to the right degree of fitness there would be sure to be unpleasant rumors about, indicating that trickery and the like had been countenanced. The saner idea would be to keep Sam out of the big matches for a while till he is in shape to do his best work.

NORMAL TITLE GAME PROMINENT IN WEST

State Championship Contest at White-water Saturday Drawing Wide Attention—Both Teams Strong.

One of the most prominent gridiron contests to be staged in the west on Saturday of this week is the one between the Whitewater and Superior Normal schools. The game will be played at Whitewater, and will settle the normal championship of Wisconsin. Superior comes down to Whitewater unheard from, with the exception that all of her games have won. Whitewater has a clean record for the year, having defeated Milwaukee Normal last week in the elimination race.

Athletes at Whitewater are taking a decided raise, and this year they have one of the greatest elevens in the history of that institution. Dorri who plays quarterback, is considered by critics to be on a par with any average quarter in the state. He played with the high school last year, taking part in the Whitewater-Janesville high school game on the local gridiron.

The normal schools, particularly in Wisconsin are going to be leading factor in athletic affairs for some years to come. It is only lately that the boost was made, and by next year, the interest will be very keen in the several state schools.

At Whitewater, there will be a new stadium and gymnasium built in the near future, which will cost a good sum of money. Athletics at that school have been given a boost by the city and the same Saturday marks a good start in the title direction. The town will be the scene of great celebrations, if the Whitewater eleven wins the championship. Odds are in favor of Whitewater, by nearly two to one.

STOUGHTON CONTEST MAY NOT BE PLAYED

Swede City Eleven Claim They Have Open Date Saturday, But Curtiss May Force Them Into Agreement.

The contest with Stoughton is not definitely settled, now that the Swedes claim they have an open date Saturday. According to the Stoughton Daily Courier Hub, the Swedes are participating in a game with Waukesha Saturday for the title of southern Wisconsin. As far as any claim to the title is concerned, Stoughton is left in the dark and if they still refuse to play Janesville, Curtiss may force them into their agreement, which was made at the beginning of the season.

From the looks of the situation, Stoughton are afraid to play Janesville in the return game, and if that is the case, they are certain to meet defeat Saturday, if the game is played. Janesville feels confident of subduing their rivals in the return game, and claim a second victory of the season.

Stoughton may be heard from definitely today regarding Saturday's contest, so that the local management might secure another contest for that date, in case Stoughton refuses to play.

The eleven had a hard scrimmage yesterday afternoon. They battled fiercely against the senior class team, the conflict ending in a close score. The seniors ousted their superior opponents to the limit. Dalton is not out in togs; and it is uncertain whether he will play again or not. The slogan is, "Get Stoughton" if the game still holds good.

PAINT

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

PAINT covers more sins than charity has to hustle to cover up. Their houses and barns and garages checks, knot-holes, season-cracks, wrinkles, freckles and high living.

Paint transforms a decrepit old natural-looking shack into a neat, though simple, cottage, and dazzles the prospective buyer into paying so much for it that he hasn't anything left to spend on the defective plumbing.

Paint transforms a decrepit and ill-engineered in some automobiles, with enormous success. It has been discovered that bright red automobiles with gold stripes and rile green spots doesn't need any horsepower at all to speak of, before it is sold.

Paint makes art possible, and also keeps our ocean steamers from fading away through rust and neglect. It is also the greatest salesman in the world. Many an ingenious invention has doubled in sales after the color of the paint has been changed and the implement firm which attempted painting them blue or green or heliotrope or Helen purple would yell for receiver in no time.

It costs about $100 to swath a house in two thick coats of juicy paint. At this rate the state of Texas has saved over $1,000,000 in the last fifty years on paint alone.

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

THE ULTRA OPTIMIST.

OPTIMISM is a good thing—a grand, good thing. At the same time it may become a bad thing under certain conditions; and those conditions are when it is carried too far.

"Every virtue is half way between two vices," the Romans used to say. Optimism is no exception to the rule. On one side of it is pessimism, on the other side is ultra optimism.

The nineteenth century has been a century of optimism. Huge business undertakings have been created out of a little capital, a little more trust and a great deal of optimism. The motif of the new religion is optimism. Everywhere it has been the dominant note. And it is a good note, too, and makes the finest music in the world. Except, again, when it is overworked.

Personally I think I am more inclined to optimism than pessimism. And yet I must say the ultra optimist impresses me quite as much as the pessimist. He has such a foolish trick of closing his eyes to facts and with the theory, "where ignorance is bliss 't were folly to be wise." To my mind it is always better to know. One of my favorite Bible verses is "Now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face; Now I know in part, but then shall I know, even as also I am known." I like that idea.

To return to the main theme—the other day I was disappointed in a long-anticipated outing on account of rain. I met one of these ultra optimists. "Cheer up!" she said, when she heard of my disappointment. "You know the sun is shining behind the clouds." Now I suppose I ought to have been grateful for that cheering reminder, but I wasn't. We weren't going to have our outing behind the clouds but right on the earth and on the earth it was raining, and what it was doing to cheer me she might have reminded me that I could go some other day. That would have had sense to it, but she didn't want to use some of that conventional patter which the ultra optimist delights in.

The man who is ultra optimistic on the subject of time is a familiar type to most of us. "What's your hurry?" he says, when he sees you allowing a little time for possible delays. "Half an hour is more than time to get to the station. And so it is if everything goes exactly right, which he optimistically expects. But everything doesn't always go exactly right, as those who depend upon his ultra optimistic calculations are likely to find to their sorrow.

Again, most of us know something of the man who is ultra optimistic about money. He never calculates exactly what his income will cover; instead he buys whatever he thinks he needs, and hopes optimistically in his undertaking which according to his figures must bring in at least sixty percent of the money invested. On examining his calculations you find that the results are all ignored or under-estimated and the profits optimistically exaggerated.

Yes, optimism is a good thing, but—

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. If you wish to keep suet from sticking to the knife when chopping it, try sprinkling the knife with a little ground rice.

To keep flatirons clean and smooth rub them first with a piece of wax tied in a cloth and afterwards scour them on a paper or cloth strewed with coarse salt.

To extract juice from the onion, cut a slice from the root end, draw back the skin and press the onion on a coarse grater, working out a rotary motion.

Tumbers which have contained milk should be first rinsed in cold water before washing in hot water.

THE TABLE.

Buttered Lobster—Two pounds of lobster, three tablespoomfuls of butter, salt and pepper, lemon juice. Remove the lobster meat from the shell and chop slightly. Melt the butter and add the lobster, and when heated, season and serve, garnished with lobster claws.

Boston Favorite Cake—Two-thirds cup of butter, two cups of sugar, four eggs, one cup of milk, three and one-half cups of flour, five tablespoomfuls of baking powder. Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, eggs beaten until light, the milk and flour mixed and sifted with the baking powder. This will make two loaves, or one-half the mixture may be baked in individual tins.

Nut Cookies—Yolks of two eggs, one cup of brown sugar, one cup of chopped nut meats, whites of two eggs, six tablespoomfuls of flour; then add one cup of boiled rice,

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS
MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am wondering if you can help me. I am a married man, have three children. My wife and I had a quarrel. Her relatives interfered, and she has been proceedings against me for divorce.

I am not a drinking man, I love my home and my children, I have a beautiful home here in this city, furnished nicely. I am my home. After the papers were served on me I was turned out of doors and have to wait now for trial.

My wife has kept roomers and had all the money from this source aside from money that I gave her. I have kept a maid for her right along.

She tells me now that she hates me and has even told others that she hates and despises me. She has also said some of the vilest things about me and also has told others that should have never left the four walls of her room. She is tired of me and wants to get rid of me.

She talks terribly to me before the children and also talks very mean to me about my family.

She wants the home and the children. I have nothing else aside from the home which I earned myself.

Can she get a divorce?

Will the courts give her everything that I have earned?

Will the courts be liable to give her the custody of all the children?

READER. The court will give you a fair trial. Unless there is some good reason why you should not be a fit guardian for the children, I doubt if you will be deprived of them entirely of the home in any event. Whether she can get a divorce or not, of course, I do not know. It will depend largely upon your defense and the grounds urged by your wife, and the manner in which the court interprets the laws as they affect your case.

If your wife is tired of you and hates you, I should think you would welcome freedom from her, even though it took part of your material possessions. You can always build again. The children, of course, are

ANY DAY DISHES SAVE MONEY,
MAKE MEALS ATTRACTIVE

As we near the holiday season, in our desire to have the table set with good things, we are apt to forget that any and every day our food must be well prepared and attention given to these three meals a day.

These are the meals we plan for with our living allowance and when we can make a "fine dish out of nothing," as a little woman told me this morning, she has every right to the feeling as she expressed it, "I just feel as though I had made two dollars." She volunteered some of these recipes, and she hoped I could make use of along with a few extras for every-day living.

Good Turkey Dressing. Material—Grated bread, crumbs, two and one-half cupfuls onion, one cupful celery, two-thirds cupfuls parsley, three tablespoomfuls chopped parsley, one tablespoomful salt, two tablespoomfuls thyme, one-third teaspoonful.

Directions—Add the butter to the spider and when hot slice in the onion and stir until it begins to look yellow, add the celery, bread crumbs and stir until they are well mixed. Add all the remaining ingredients and stuff the turkey leaving almost one-third of the room inside to allow for the swelling of the dressing.

This is good, light, tasty and wholesome stuffing.

Plain Plum Pudding. Material—Flour, one cupful stale grated bread crumbs, two cupfuls; chopped beef suet, one cupful; molasses, one cupful; mixed raisins, currants, citron and candied lemon or orange peel, two cupfuls; salt, one-half teaspoonful; soda, one-half teaspoonful; cinnamon, one teaspoonful; cloves, one-half teaspoonful; eggs, two.

Directions—Put the fat into the spider with the meat cut fine and the bread soaked in hot milk, the beaten egg and seasoning. Stir well together and shape into a loaf and steam one hour. Boil rice to which is added chopped green peppers and make a border of this around the meat and serve with brown gravy.

Baked Potatoes With Paprika.

Boil some medium-sized potatoes in a hot oven until nearly done; then cut a cross on the tops, turn back the skins and scoop out a teaspoonful of the yolk.

Potatoes Surprise.

Materials—Baked potatoes, yellow turnips, bread crumbs and cheese.

Directions—Scoop out baked potatoes of uniform size and stuff with well mashed and seasoned yellow turnips. Sprinkle with grated cheese and bread crumbs and bake in a pan under the broiler until brown.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Out the year of peace and plenty, And for blessings without end, Let the voices of the people In Thanksgiving praises blend.

THANKSGIVING DESSERTS.

Here are a few dainties worth trying for the season's Thanksgiving day:

Citron Souffles.—Cook a half cup of soft bread crumbs in two tablespoomfuls of butter until a nice brown. Add a cup of hot milk, a fourth of a teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of vanilla, and two whole eggs and the yolks of three well beaten; now add a third of a cup of citron cut in fine strips, fold in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and dry. Bake in buttered individual pans. Set in a pan of hot water and bake fifteen minutes, or until firm. Remove from the molds and serve with Monroe Sauce.

Monroe Sauce.—Cook one cup of brown sugar with a third of a cup of boiling water fifteen minutes. Add two tablespoomfuls of cold water to one tablespoomful of cornstarch; add to the sirup and simmer forty-five minutes. Add two tablespoomfuls of butter, salt, vanilla and a grating of nutmeg. A tablespoomful of vinegar improves this sauce.

Cape Cod Pudding.—Cream half a cup of butter and add gradually one cup of sugar and three well beaten eggs. Mix and sift three and a half cups of flour with two tablespoomfuls of baking powder; add a half cup of milk and one and a half cups of chopped cranberries. Turn into a buttered mold, cover and let steam three hours. Serve with thin cream and powdered sugar flavored with nutmeg.

Fruit Pudding.—Chop a fourth of a pound of suet and mix until creamy, add a half pound of chopped figs. Soak two and a half cupfuls of bread crumbs in three-fourths of a cup of milk; add three eggs well beaten, one cup of brown sugar, one teaspoon of salt, half teaspoon of cinnamon, a half teaspoon of grated nutmeg and a fourth of a teaspoon of cloves. Combine mixture and add a cup of walnut meats broken in pieces, one-half cup of seeded raisins chopped and dredged with two tablespoomfuls of flour sifted with two and a half tablespoomfuls of baking powder. Turn into a buttered mold and steam three hours.—Serve with Lyman Sauce.—Beat the white of an egg until stiff, then add gradually, beating constantly, three-fourths of a cup of sugar; add the yolk of an egg well beaten and three-fourths of a cup of thick cream, beaten stiff. Flavor with vanilla and a few drops of lemon extract.

Gertrude Hassler Carpenter.

Bound by contract instead of religious vows, Miss Gertrude W. Hassler, concert and church singer, and F. A. Carpenter, a Chicago business man, were married in Kenosha, Wis., the other day. The bride recently was awarded $36,000 for breach of promise from Carl G. Fisher, Indiana millionaire club man.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People

By FRANCES JOYCE KENNEDY.

"How can I get my sewing all finished up before cold weather? That is, the sewing that I feel as if I really ought to have finished so as to send the family out to school warmly clad."

Here is a question that one of our readers has given me to answer. She writes me that try as she will she don't seem able to forge ahead enough with her work to get time to do the sewing she wishes to.

It would seem that the day is not long enough—or that we do not know how to plan our work well enough.

(My mother, reading this way, less talk more work; an earlier start and a determination to finish things will give the desired results.) We are apt nowadays to think that we can not work at all if it not be by system.

System is never to be despised; but let's not overdo it: we can do so many things through the day that are never down on the program; that's part of housekeeping and home-making.

One fine way to get your sewing done up is to plan on a week of sewing; just sewing, nothing else, that can be left undone.

This must sound like deserting the question of three meals each day, but it's not. It's serving them in simplified form, and eliminating every bit of work that one can get along without doing, letting the house take care of itself, while you preside at the sewing machine.

Even the wash can be cut down for this one week; also the ironing, and that for sewing week you will expect every one to do his or her level best to help with the work; giving you more time to sew.

This isn't half as uncivilized as it sounds; in fact it's fun, and you never know what little helpers you have got until you turn the house over to them. Then when you are making new gowns and things for all the family

(except John), they will be willing to do each their share.

To cut out more than one garment with satisfactory results. Simple patterns are always best and all the while cutting is time saving and can be tried out on little school aprons

sewing can be stitched at one sitting; then while the youthful helpers

are busy with the housework, or preparing the evening meal, you can do much of the finishing, sitting in the kitchen, overseeing their work.

Now this is not to be taken as a talk for any, but the pressed-for-time mothers. It's all very fine for the mothers of the home and income to dis-cernly say that such ways of working is all both very unorthodox, etc.

but the wise little mother that is raising up more than a lonesome baby

will see that this plan is fit to be tried.

And would it be a bad plan while sewing week is on to teach the children that while you are making the garments for them, were it not for the fact that daddy kept busy there would be no material to make up; as you alone could not do for them as you now do. That they are to not forget that when daddy is no longer

young, when his step-fathers—half as old as he is—can mind what is done for them today. They must in turn let him lean on them, as he is now, letting him lean on him.

Trouble is with most of us, we don't stop to think how really good God is to us—how much we have to be thankful for. What if while we fashion

the many little garments for our

10 CENT "CASCARETS" STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken.

PLYMOUTH

Plymouth, Nov. 12.—The remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Hoover of Janesville were brought here Saturday afternoon for burial. The deceased was eighty-six years of age and was at one time a resident of this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Jenson returned from their honeymoon and will reside at Beloit.

A number of our young folks attended a party at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Fellen at Hanover Saturday evening and all report a fine time.

FREE MOTION PICTURE SHOW AT CITY HALL

Part of Health Exhibit of Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, Two Nights.

A free moving picture show is the latest feature to be added to the health exhibit of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and University Extension Division, now on display at the city hall. The pictures, dealing with health subjects, are fascinating and dramatic. Among the reels to be shown are "Wedding Bells," "The Man Who Learned," "The Fly Pest" and "The Red Cross Seal."

The picture shows will be held on Friday and Saturday nights. The moving picture machine and reels have been sent from Madison. In addition to movies, stereopticon slides will be flashed on the curtain.

Between reels, prominent local men and women will deliver short talks, in addition to the special speakers from Milwaukee. Music will be provided, if possible.

The health exhibit arrived in Janesville on Thursday—fourteen bulky crates and trunks. With it came Paul W. Clark, director of the exhibit, and Alvin C. Reis, lecturer. Miss Margaret Salisbury will arrive from Milwaukee on Friday.

Miss Salisbury will spend Friday speaking in the schools. Mr. Reis, who has spoken to thousands of factory workers in Milwaukee this summer, will talk in the factories. Mr. Black will be in charge of the exhibit, which is open at all times.

Due to the fact that such large crowds are expected on Friday and Saturday nights, the rule will have to be made that no children are allowed the night meetings, unless accompanied by parents or by some other adult.

SHOPIERE

Shopiere, Nov. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Knute Berge entertained a number of friends Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weirick of Janesville spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

The R. C. A. will hold their meeting Nov. 20th, at the home of Mr. F. Culver.
